AS PER USUAL

BY DAMI LEE

My company recently relocated,
pushing my commute to over an hour.

It's been harder to adjust to than I expected.

A lot harder.

Now I carry nuts and berries to snack on in the subway so I don't faint from hunger.

I'm embracing my new life as a squirrel.

Me and my korean nuts in the subway: